Red Bloc Lines Up Behind Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP) — The Warsaw Pact powers have lined up behind Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for a showdown on the German problem at the East-West summit talks in May.

The eight-nation Communist alliance wound up a one-day conference Thursday night by threatening again to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany "and to solve on this basis the question of West Berlin as well."

The Soviet-led bloc backed the policies already laid down by Khrushchev—including the offer of a nonaggression pact with the North Atlantic alliance, universal disarmament, a ban on nuclear weapons and conversion of West

Wife's Death Said To Be No Murder

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The story Dr. R. Bernard Finch hopes will save his life today was near the point of crisis—where he tries to show his wife's death was not murder but mishap.

His attorney already has outlined the defense. And the crew-cut doctor has detailed his flight into adultery from a marriage frustrated by frigidity. But he had still to give his own version of how Barbara Jean Finch was shot to death outside their luxuriously suburban home last July 18.

The 42-year-old physician, trying to counter the state's accusations, has said the gun that killed his wife was one she drew herself. And he has denied the state's charge that he hired a man to kill her, claiming instead that the man was paid to get evidence that could be used against her in her divorce suit.

Several women jurors couldn't keep from frowning Thursday when the physician testified that he tried twice unsuccessfully to hire someone who could follow Mrs. Finch in hopes of "getting something on her."

Finally, he said, and Carole Tregoff—his medical secretary, then his paramour, and now his co-defendant—found someone they thought could "do the job." The doctor testified that Carole said Jack Cody told her that he'd get the information for us "if he had to sleep with her himself and then go to court and testify."

Jack Cody testified for the state that Carole and Finch hired him not as a gigolo but as a murderer—to kill Mrs. Finch. He said he took money but had no intention of murdering her.

But Finch firmly denied the charge for which he is on trial for his life: That he plotted to kill Mrs. Finch so he wouldn't have to share with her community property she estimated at three-quarters of a million dollars.

Finch's attorneys said the doctor will explain that Mrs. Finch, 36, suffered injuries struggling with her estranged mate for a pistol—and that she was shot to death accidentally.

U.S. Sues Ohio For Use of Wheat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The federal government filed a declaratory judgment action against the state of Ohio in U.S. District Court here Thursday for allegedly exceeding federal quotas on wheat grown on farms at state institutions in 1955 and 1956.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle met with Judge Mell G. Underwood after the suit was filed in Underwood's court.

The state faces $28,000 in penalties. None of the wheat in question was sold, the governor said. "We used it at the various institutions," he explained.

Farms named in the suit are at hospitals, prisons and institutions near Massillon, Apple Creek, Lebanon, London, Mount Vernon, Tiffin, Orient and Grafton.

County Treasurer Jailed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Chester A. Myers, Montgomery County treasurer, began a three-day jail term here Thursday on a drunken driving conviction. He also was fined $200. A similar charge faces Myers in Dayton.

Mack Sauer Dies at 62

Congress Hopeful's Heart Tucks Out

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Mack Sauer, 62, one of three candidates to file for the Republican nomination to a full term in Congress from the sixth Ohio district, died in Highland Community Hospital here early today.

"This can only encourage the militarist and revenge-seeking forces of West Germany. If efforts directed at signing a peace treaty with both German states will not meet support, and the solution to this problem still faces delay, then the states represented at this conference will have no way out but to sign, together with other states which will be ready for that, a peace treaty with the (East) German Democratic Republic, and on this basis to solve the problem of West Berlin as well."

Khrushchev signed for the Soviet Union as both head of the government and Communist Party Chairman. Both premiers and party leaders signed for the other countries—East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Albania.

Delegates from the four Asian Communist nations—Red China, Outer Mongolia, North Korea and North Viet Nam—looked on but did not sign the communiqué at a glittering ceremony in the Catharine Room of the Kremlin Palace.

Western diplomats suggested that secret decisions may have been reached which were not disclosed in the communiqué. They said it was unlikely that Khrushchev had brought party and government leaders from all over Europe and Asia to repeat formally what all had declared repeatedly before.

The communiqué echoed the call already made by the Soviet Premier for the West to follow the Soviet lead in cutting down armed forces.

The Soviet Union's allies in the pact announced no specific commitments toward reducing their own armed forces.

Looking forward to the spring summit conference in Paris, the communiqué expressed hope that it "will be a turning point in East-West relations."

While declaring that generally "there is a definite change for the better in the international atmosphere," there was no indication that Khrushchev is ready to make any major concessions in Paris.

Both men were one she drew herself. And he has denied the state's charge that he hired a man to kill her, claiming instead that the man was paid to get evidence that could be used against her in her divorce suit.

Mack Sauer Dies at 62

Congress Hopeful's Heart Tucker Out

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — Mack Sauer, 62, one of three candidates to file for the Republican nomination to a full term in Congress from the sixth Ohio district, died in Highland Community Hospital here early today.

Sauer, a Hillsboro radio station operator, suffered a heart attack Thursday night while making a speech before the Clermont County Schoolmasters Club at Williamsburg.

His death leaves only two Republican candidates to vie for the nomination from the Sixth District — S. A. Ringer of Leesburg and William A. Harsha Jr. of Portsmouth. Both are seeking full terms as U.S. representative, together with five others who seek the Democratic nomination.

A short-term contest for the post also will be held in the November elections.

The district is comprised of Fayette, Pickaway, Highland, Ross, Clermont, Brown, Adams, Scioto and Pike counties.

Well-known in Southern Ohio as an after-dinner speaker and humorist, Sauer once was editor-owner of the Leesburg Citizen, Lynchburg News and the old New Vienna Reporter. His newspapers were noted for their April Fool editions in which Sauer, "the little Napoleon of Southern Ohio Journalism," would spin a startling yarn only to reveal the April Fool angle in the final sentence.

House Democratic leaders say that they expect to pass school legislation before the 86th Congress quits. But they assert their branch is likely to limit the funds to school construction, omitting teacher salaries which were included in the Senate bill.

The Senate vote was the latest move in a long fight running back to 1871 to win congressional passage of general federal aid for public elementary and high schools.

Senate aides said it was the first time in history that support of teacher salaries had been singled out for specific mention in an education bill.

The outcome was an important victory for the National Education Assn. and other teacher organizations over the nation.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told the Senate Eisenhower would be particularly unhappy with the teacher salary provision.

Eisenhower entering the weekly newspaper he had been associated with the Athens Messenger, Portsmouth Times and Columbus Dispatch.

He is survived by the widow, two children and five grandchildren.

Piketon Bank Thug Is Bound to Jury

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Argalus Noel Ison, 22, of Lucasville, Ohio, has been bound over to the next grand jury of the U.S. Southern District Court of Ohio. Ison, alias Gale Noel Wells, waived a hearing here Thursday on a federal bank robbery charge.

Ison was arrested Wednesday by Sheriff Bill Manning in Sandy Hook, Ky.

Police said $720 was found on Ison.

Two hours later, a 60-foot Jupiter blazed across the sky. The Army later said the shot was successful and added that the test series for the liquid-fueled giant had been completed four months ahead of time.

The Navy announced the success of the Polaris, which is slated to become standard equipment on nuclear submarines in the not-too-distant future.

Train Is Flagged To Aid Ailing Dog

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The daughter of Mrs. D. G. Donovan told her mother Thursday that a dog hit by a train was lying between two tracks.

Mrs. Donovan tried to lift the dog — a collie — but was unsuccessful. She then heard a train coming.

Authorities said Branan has been identified as the robber of the Sedalia Farmer's Bank while Kerns was suspected of driving the getaway car.

Both men were brought to Columbus where the FBI filed bank robbery charges against them. The two waived a hearing when arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Robert Newton and were taken to City Prison after failing to post $10,000 bonds. The commissioner bound them over to the federal grand jury.

Officials said the two put up no fight when arrested and were carrying $1,149.

Kerns had no previous police record, authorities said. Branan, however, served time in Ohio Penitentiary for robbery from 1939 to 1950. He also had been at London Prison farm from where he escaped in 1939 but was captured.

Officials said Kerns told them he didn't know Branan was going to rob the bank. Branan also said Kerns didn't know it.

U.S. Arms Fund Said 'Tied Up'

General Claims GIs Fail To Get Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Much of the special additional funds voted by Congress to provide new equipment for American soldiers has been tied up by the Budget Bureau or has been used to help allies, says Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

Lemnitzer, Army chief of staff, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee and Space Committee Thursday that Army modernization is one of his principal problems.

Lemnitzer said part of the $386,200,000 appropriation was used to assist allies and 175 million dollars were placed in reserve by the Budget Bureau to meet "future contingencies."

President Eisenhower's new budget provides about 1½ billion dollars to continue the Army's modernization program at its present rate. The Army originally tried to get five billion dollars a year for three years for modernization.

Lemnitzer differed with some of the opinions expressed to the committee earlier in the day by Gen. Maxwell Taylor. Taylor, now retired, was Lemnitzer's predecessor as Army commander.

Taylor said the Joint Chiefs of Staff should be replaced by a single chief of staff. Lemnitzer said the JCS is "the proper organization for this country."

Lemnitzer said he agreed with the concept of an around-the-clock airborne alert for Strategic Air Command bombers, but said he was opposed to such a precaution "under the current circumstances and the situation as it exists today."

Boy Scout Week Starts Sunday; Adults Set Plans

Plans for celebrating Boy Scout Week, starting Sunday, took up most of the agenda at the regular monthly meeting of the Pickaway District Committee last night.

Fourteen committed members attended the session, conducted by district chairman, Judge Guy G. Cline. Guest on hand was Robert May Central Ohio Scout Council camping director.

Richard Wilson, district camping and activities chairman, announced that a meeting will be held February 15 at 7 p.m. in the Methodist Church to re-organize Troop 52.

A swimming meet may be held in June, Judge Cline announced. The committee seeks an advancement chairman to replace Charles Wimmer, who has been ill.

THE 1960 SCOUT-O-RAMA tickets commission and prize list will be distributed at the March meeting. Two top-prizes will be awarded this year, one for Franklin County and one for the eight districts, comprising the central Ohio Council, outside of Franklin County.

It has been proven in past years that Franklin County and Columbus competition is too tough to compete with. March of Dimes containers, which were distributed by scouts, will be collected in the near future.

Many of the county's scout troops will exhibit window displays during Scout Week. Most scouts will participate in Scout Sunday.

Judge Cline will present a charter to the newly established Derby by Methodist Church scout troop at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

District Scout executive, James Hyde, introduced the newly appointed scoutmaster of Troop 170, sponsored by the Lutheran Church. He is Andy Lorentz. Former scoutmaster, Nick Melvin, resigned for health reasons.

Wilson said there would be an advanced outdoor training session, in conjunction with the Madison District, in April.

DISTRICT COMMISSIONER, Vernon Saunders, said the district was short neighborhood commissioners. There should be one for each troop.

Hyde said the Pickaway District was receiving much more local newspaper publicity than any other district in the central Ohio Council. He thanked The Herald for its continual interest and cooperation.

The District Roundtable was held at 8:15 p.m. Fifteen members of the district committee, unit leaders, their assistants and unit committee members were present.

Camping Director May said this year will be the biggest camping season in the Council's history. He said there were 44,000 camper days last year.

He said there are few U.S. organizations dealing with youth that have survived 50 years as has scouting. "There is now five million boys and men in scouting," he said.

The central Ohio Council was chartered in 1916. He said that the world's largest scout reservation, Philmont Scout Ranch, comprising 127,000 acres, again will host Explorer Scouts this summer.

CAMP LARRIMER, the council's newest camp, located 54 miles south or near here near Jackson, will be developed into an explorer camp.

Camp Green Hills, a new camp three times larger than Camp Lazarus, Delaware, is not ready for its grand opening due to lack of necessary funds.

Camp Lazarus fees have been increased this year, but refunds are available for early payment. The Roundtable program was presented by William Huffman, scoutmaster of Troop 223.

His topic was "Training for Trouble". It included displaying first aid kits, demonstrated use of scout neckerchief as ankle bandage, four-man blanket carry, six-man blanket carry and two-pole blanket stretcher.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the White Church, Kingston, with the Rev. Amos and Paul Ray Diamond officiating.

Burial will be in White Church Cemetery under the direction of the L.E. Hill Funeral Home, Kingston. Friends may call at the residence after 6 p.m. tomorrow.

U.S. Arms Fund Said 'Tied Up'

General Claims Gls Fail To Get Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Much of the special additional funds voted by Congress to provide new equipment for American soldiers has been tied up by the Budget Bureau or has been used to help allies, says Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

Lemnitzer, Army chief of staff, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee and Space Committee Thursday that Army modernization is one of his principal problems.

Lemnitzer said part of the $386,200,000 appropriation was used to assist allies and 175 million dollars were placed in reserve by the Budget Bureau to meet "future contingencies."

President Eisenhower's new budget provides about 1½ billion dollars to continue the Army's modernization program at its present rate. The Army originally tried to get five billion dollars a year for three years for modernization.

Lemnitzer differed with some of the opinions expressed to the committee earlier in the day by Gen. Maxwell Taylor. Taylor, now retired, was Lemnitzer's predecessor as Army commander.

Taylor said the Joint Chiefs of Staff should be replaced by a single chief of staff. Lemnitzer said the JCS is "the proper organization for this country."

Lemnitzer said he agreed with the concept of an around-the-clock airborne alert for Strategic Air Command bombers, but said he was opposed to such a precaution "under the current circumstances and the situation as it exists today."

AN ILLUSTRATION OF THE AMAZING FOUR-FOLD ACTIVITY OF THE APOSTLE PAUL—TENT-MAKING, TRAVELING, PREACHING AND WRITING

Scripture—Acts 18:1-22; 1 Corinthians 1:26-2:5.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL THE REV. DR. WILBUR M. SMITH introduces today's lesson by reminding us of the differences in cities in our own country—Boston with its shipping and historical sites, for instance, and Denver, Colorado, with a much shorter history, but with such wonderful scenery, which awes travelers who visit. "What a difference between New Orleans and another city in the nation, directly north on the Mississippi river, with its sturdy Scandinavian element, its large evangelical churches and Bible Institutes—Minneapolis. So in the days of Paul did the great cities of the empire, more or less, have their own separate individuality, and Paul was marvelously gifted in being able to adapt himself to the mood of any city into which he entered for the preaching of the gospel. The one that concerns us in this lesson is Corinth, situated in northern Greece, the residence of the governor.

"As Athens was the intellectual center, so Corinth was the political and commercial center of Greece."

There he "found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome)."—Acts 18:12.

The Greeks then took Sosthenes, chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him.

Paul stayed there a "good while" before leaving his brethren and sailing to Syria, taking Aquila and Priscilla with him.

He left them there and went to Ephesus, where he taught in the synagogue. They wanted him to stay there, but he bid them goodbye, saying that he must keep the feast in Jerusalem.

However, he said, "I will return again unto you, if God will." So he sailed from Ephesus "and when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch."—Acts 18:19.

So we see in our lesson how God protected Paul from his enemies. He will do the same for us if, when we are in trouble Gentiles."—Acts 18:36.

So Paul departed, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined the political center, so Corinth was the political and commercial center of Greece."

There he "found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome)."—Acts 18:12.

The Greeks then took Sosthenes, chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him.

Paul stayed there a "good while" before leaving his brethren and sailing to Syria, taking Aquila and Priscilla with him.

He left them there and went to Ephesus, where he taught in the synagogue. They wanted him to stay there, but he bid them goodbye, saying that he must keep the feast in Jerusalem.

However, he said, "I will return again unto you, if God will." So he sailed from Ephesus "and when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch."—Acts 18:19.

So we see in our lesson how God protected Paul from his enemies. He will do the same for us if, when we are in trouble we need His help and pray to Him.

Perseverance in Christian Work

AN ILLUSTRATION OF THE AMAZING FOUR-FOLD ACTIVITY OF THE APOSTLE PAUL—TENT-MAKING, TRAVELING, PREACHING AND WRITING

Scripture—Acts 18:1-2; 1 Corinthians 1:16-2:5.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

THE REV. DR. WILBUR M. SMITH introduces today's lesson by reminding us of the differences in cities in our own country—Boston with its shipping and historical sites, for instance, and Denver, Colorado, with a much shorter history, but with such wonderful scenery, which awes travelers who visit, "What a difference between New Orleans and another city in the nation, directly north on the Mississippi river, with its sturdy Scandinavian element, its large evangelical churches and Bible Institutes—Minneapolis. So in the days of Paul did the great cities of the empire, more or less, have their own separate individuality, and Paul was marvelously gifted in being able to adapt himself to the mood of any city into which he entered for the preaching of the gospel.

Then the Lord spoke to Paul in a vision at night, saying: "Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace: For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city."—Acts 18:9-10.

So Paul stayed on there a year and six months, teaching the gospel.

"When Gallio was the deputy of Achaea, the unbelieving Jews brought Paul to the judgment seat, saying, This fellow persuaded men to worship God contrary to the law." But Gallio refused to listen to them, saying, "If it were a matter of wrong or wickedness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you: But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it: for I

"As Athens was the intellectual center, so Corinth was the political and commercial center of Greece."

There he "found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome.)"—Acts 18:12.

Because he was a tentmaker like themselves, he lived with them, "and he reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks. And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ.

"And when they opposed themselves and blasphemed, he shook his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles."—Acts 18:19-22.

So Paul departed, and "entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, who was a tanner, and who had joined him."

However, he said, "I will return again unto you, if God will." So he sailed from Ephesus "and when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch."—Acts 18:22.

So we see in our lesson how God protected Paul from his enemies. He will do the same for us if, when we are in trouble we need His help and pray to Him.

STEP IN IT—

Get the quiet proof of Chevrolet's superior performance on the road—No other car in the low-priced three can match the borne-on-the-wind sensation you get from a ride in the 1960 Chevrolet. But that's not surprising when you consider to what lengths Chevy has gone to provide for your comfort at no extra cost to you. As you drive, count the ways Chevrolet has been thoughtful:

Supple Full Coil suspension—

Coil springs at all four wheels melt bumper as no other suspension can.

Taking the punch out of rough roads is their only function—they don't have to anchor the rear axle.

Butyl rubber body mounts—

Thicker, newly designed body mounts further insulate you from the road.

Body by Fisher—Only Chevy in its field offers the polish and craftsmanship of Body by Fisher.

Foam cushioned seats—Chevy offers foam cushioned seats in both front and rear in all series but one.

Safety-Girder frame—X-built and not merely X-braced, the Safety-Girder frame affords greater rigidity to minimize twisting and squeaks.

Hydraulic valve lifters—Oil bushed hydraulic valve lifters reduce engine noise to a whisper.

Cushioned steering shaft—A universal joint and cushioned coupling keep those annoying road tremors from the steering wheel.

Tasteless, odorless and Deadly

Almost daily deaths of motorists attributed to carbon monoxide poisoning are reported—deaths caused by purposful or accidental breathing of the odorless, tasteless gas.

Suicides can take the exhaust-pipe method at any time of year. But it is the winter season that accounts for most of the accidental deaths. Several hundred persons are asphyxiated every winter when letting their cars warm up in closed garages. It might be concluded that at the end of a half-century of the motor age nobody would be that ignorant or absent-minded.

Many highway deaths, injuries and wrecked cars can be laid to doses of carbon monoxide not fatal in themselves. This gas, seeping into a car from a faulty manifold or muffler, can cause drowsiness resulting in a bad accident. A car parked outdoors with windows closed and motor running, to warm an affectionate couple within, can be the end of them both without their knowing what happened.

The great danger in this insidious gas is that it gives no warning. It will pay to check the spots where it can escape into the car. It takes a concentration of but one twenty-fifth of one per cent to be fatal to the person who breathes the air—and exhaust gases contain from five to 10 per cent of carbon monoxide.

There is only one sure way to keep safe and clear-headed: Have plenty of ventilation.

Courtin' Main

Don't try to fall back on your friends too often — you'll miss some of them.

Better Make Out Your Will

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you made out your will yet?

If not, you ought to. Otherwise after you're gone your relatives will wind up squabbling over who gets your new two-pants suit and the gold fillings in your teeth.

Millions of Americans postpone making out a will because the mere thought depresses them. Actually, it is rather an enlightening experience.

"I'll go along with you—just so you won't feel nervous," says your wife, when you tell her you are going to a lawyer to make out your will.

You have a deep inner conviction that this isn't her real reason at all. But what can you say? So along she comes.

"Have you decided just what you want to do?" asks the lawyer.

of her life—she says."

The secretary types out the will. For some reason, no matter how little you have to leave, the document always runs to three or four pages.

But after disposing of all your worldly goods—and paying the lawyer—you find you have just $2.63 in your pockets.

"I'm worth more dead than alive," you complain on the bus going home.

Suddenly you remember something.

"I forgot to ask the lawyer who I should leave my credit cards to," you exclaim.

"Never mind, you can take them with you," says your wife, patting your hand again consolingly. "Where you're going, and she has given me the best years would most likely be interspersed with the minimum of state functions her official role would demand."

There can be no question but that American wives influence their husbands and that they usually are vitally concerned with what their husbands do. Most political wives are accustomed to helping the husband build a career. There are very few exceptions. Ours is not a man's world; it is a husband - and - wife world; it is a family world. No candidate risks traveling about the country during a campaign without his wife. Adlai Stevenson has been divorced and I am sure that that item played its part in his two defeats. However, Thomas E. Dewey, who is happily married, also was twice defeated. So the rule may not be established. Nevertheless, no bachelor has, in recent years, run for President or even been suggested as a possibility except Adlai Stevenson who was not accepted by the people.

It is interesting to have a sociological view of our candidates.

Westbrook Pegler spoke wisely when he said that to understand a political person, it is smart to have a look at the other head on the pillow. Optimistically, I assume that Pegler meant a man's wife, although there are always rumors of wicked infiltrations into the lives of the great to corrupt them as Cleopatra corrupted both Caesar and Anthony.

Our Presidents, who usually come up from obscurity, appear with families fully formed by the time they reach the nominating stage. Mrs. Herbert Hoover, for instance, was a geologist married to a mining engineer, a lady of great learning who had, in collaboration with her husband, translated from the Latin the first important work on geology and mining. She also possessed familiarity with Chinese, was expert in ceramics and was a brilliant conversationalist.

The qualities of her successor in the White House, Eleanor Roosevelt, are quite known. She is a politician of great skill who played, and continues to play, an important role in public affairs.

Bess Truman, on the other hand, was a retiring lady who never became involved in the affairs of Washington. She left the White House respected even by her husband's political enemies.

Mamie Eisenhower, the present incumbent, does not project herself beyond the social obligations of position.

Now let us turn to what are the prospects for the next Administration:

Patricia Nixon, who is 46 years old, represents her generation. She is good to look at, is always well-dressed, is an excellent hostess and supports her husband as a wife should. Unlike Eleanor Roosevelt, she does not compete with her husband; but unlike Bess Truman, she does not hide her light. She seems as trained for the Presidency as a member of the British royal family is to be a Queen: In a word, she knows what to do and does it with charm and untiring devotion.

Evelyn Symington, age 65, has the bearing of the well-born. Her father was long in Congress as is her husband. She is accustomed to entertaining. She loves music, is an attractive hostess and should she become the First Lady, the White House would be restored to the gaiety and brilliance of the Roosevelt days (Theodore or Franklin — take your choice).

Jacqueline Kennedy is 30 and beautiful. I quote from "The Insider's Newsletter":

"... Having been educated at Vassar and the Sorbonne, Jackie speaks French, Italian and Spanish fluently — is devoted to literature, jazz and modern art. The Kennedys live quietly, enjoy family get-togethers and

In 1938, police said, Ruth Crum sat in a car in Havana, Ill., while male companion committed a burglary. She pleaded guilty to the charge although she maintained she didn't know the man's intentions when he left the auto.

LAFF-A-DAY

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — While President Eisenhower's policy of calmness under stress has been able to keep the American people cool, it doesn't follow that his attitude will always have the same effect on allies and neutrals.

For example, he has been continually calm on the question of American defense against the Soviet Union. He also has always pursued a policy of avoiding extreme statements.

His two policies fused this week when he was asked to comment on criticism that American military strength was dangerously lagging behind the Soviets.

"I am always a little bit amazed about this business of catching up," he told his news conference. "What you want is enough, a thing that is adequate."

"A deterrent has no added power, once it has become completely adequate for compelling respect of any potential opponent for your future deterrent and therefore to make him act prudently."

This explained why, despite criticism, particularly from the Democrats, Eisenhower has refused to pump as much money into defense speedups as some of his administration's critics consider necessary.

What he said could be put another way: Why try to build up an armament whose only usefulness is to impress people with its size when it isn't size that counts but the adequacy of the defense you actually have?

This attitude indicates, as much as anything Eisenhower has said since becoming President, the apparent self-confidence he has in the judgement of himself and his aides, at least in military matters.

Nevertheless, there is one possibility which the twin Eisenhower policy of calmness and unexaggerated statement may not be able to anticipate because it applies strictly to American ability to defend itself against the Soviet Union.

It's this:

What will be the effect on American allies and neutrals if the Soviets continue to build up a gigantic arsenal, plus the kind of "fantastic" new weapons Premier Nikita Khrushchev said is in the works?

Will Soviet accomplishments have a discouraging effect on allies and neutrals—much closer to the Soviet Union than this country—since they can't equip themselves with the kind of defense America can erect?

And will a Soviet armament, if it's much bigger and more glittering than this country's, persuade others that the Soviet Union has outstripped America as a nation and world power?

Perhaps Eisenhower has taken into consideration this kind of answer to the questions just raised: If American defense against the Soviet Union is adequate to prevent a Soviet attack, since it would in effect be a worldwide defense, it would be just as much a protection for the allies as for America.

Meanwhile, of course, the military front is not the only one on which the cold war in the years ahead will be fought.

For instance, this country will probably step up its aid to other nations, particularly neutrals like India, to stiffen their backbone and put them in the American camp, granted American and Soviet power come down to being equal in necessary power even though different in size.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Herald welcomes expressions of opinions from its readers on subjects of general interest through letters to the editor. Letters should be signed with the name and address of the writer. However, the name will not be used in publication of the name or initials will be substituted. We will not use anonymous letters.

"In your editorial of January 29, 1960, you questioned whether the City of Circleville had too large a surplus of funds. And you answered the question by stating in effect that ideally the city should spend, not only its receipts for the year, but any beginning balance so that the city ends the year with no balance.

"I am aware that you stated all the money should be spent for essentials and no frills, but you did state that it should be spent. And from the tenor of your editorial the $14,089 due in December 1959, if it had been received in December 1959, should have spent in 1959.

"If the decision was that it should be spent on streets, how could it be spent on streets in December? It is common knowledge that street work must be done in the summer for best results.

"The purpose of this letter is to show you that judgment of the operation of the city cannot be based on the year-end balance alone. And further to show you that if a judgment is to be made on the year-end balance, the result would be opposite of yours. Your position is that the government with no balance is a better one than one with a balance. The truth is that the government with the year-end balance is better than one without a year-end balance, as I hope is evident to you from the subsequent paragraphs of this letter.

"Finally this point. If one administration wanted to make a succeeding administration look bad, it could accomplish this by leaving no year-end balance.

"In conclusion, please note this. Judgment of the operation of government of a city cannot be made on the basis of year-end balance alone. However, if a judgment is warranted, it must be that there is good government rather than bad government. A better criterion for judging the quality of government is to be obtained from the fact that it operated within its income, the year-end balance for 1958 being approximately equal to the year end balance for 1959.

"The city hasn't spent extravagantly in 1959 at the expense of the citizens in 1960. Thus from the financial statement, it is evident that city government for 1959 has been successful."

Get Your Polio Vaccination

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

If you have not yet received Salk vaccine protection, see your doctor about getting your polio shots now. Don't wait until the polio season gets here. Now is the time to act. So act without delay.

It is advised that Salk vaccine protection for everyone under 40 and for all pregnant women be given now no matter how old they may be.

Even if you are over 40, the vaccine certainly won't do you any harm and who knows, you might be one of the few persons over that age that polio strikes this year.

Most doctors recommend four injections, including a booster shot. The first two inoculations are given a few weeks apart, but the third generally is held up until about seven months later. The booster is recommended about 12 months after the third inoculation.

The vaccine begins to build some immunity within ten days or so. But you don't receive its full protection until you have obtained all the shots.

That means you have to begin the inoculation series now if you want to have even three shots by the time the polio season rolls around again.

Children, especially, should be given the protection the vaccine affords since they are much more susceptible to polio. Expectant mothers also are more susceptible than are other adults. Usually it's best if these mothers-to-be are inoculated during the first three months of pregnancy.

Now it's true that many persons have had a light attack of polio in the past and never were aware of it.

This single attack may provide immunity to further attacks from the virus that caused it, since it helps to develop antibodies. However, we know of three different types of polio virus. And while the Salk vaccine provides protection from all three, chances are that an attack of polio itself will give no protection whatever from the two types of virus not directly involved.

We know that polio viruses are extremely small and that they can find their way into the bloodstream through the mouth or nose. We know that they can cause paralysis and death. We know that they can cause permanent damage to the brain and spinal cord.

But we also know that they can cause temporary paralysis and death. We know that they can cause permanent damage to the brain and spinal cord.

Tasteless, odorless and Deadly

Almost daily deaths of motorists attributed to carbon monoxide poisoning are reported—deaths caused by purposeful or accidental breathing of the odorless, tasteless gas.

Suicides can take the exhaust-pipe method at any time of year. But it is the winter season that accounts for most of the accidental deaths. Several hundred persons are asphyxiated every winter when letting their cars warm up in closed garages. It might be concluded that at the end of a half-century of the motor age nobody would be that ignorant or absent-minded.

Many highway deaths, injuries and wrecked cars can be laid to doses of carbon monoxide not fatal in themselves. This gas, seeping into a car from a faulty manifold or muffler, can cause drowsiness resulting in a bad accident. A car parked outdoors with windows closed and motor running, to warm an affectionate couple within, can be the end of them both without their knowing what happened.

The great danger in this insidious gas is that it gives no warning. It will pay to check the spots where it can escape into the car. It takes a concentration of but one twenty-fifth of one per cent to be fatal to the person who breathes the air—and exhaust gases contain from five to 10 per cent of carbon monoxide.

There is only one sure way to keep safe and clear-headed: Have plenty of ventilation.

Better Make Out Your Will

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you made out your will yet?

If not, you ought to. Otherwise after you're gone your relatives will wind up squabbling over who gets your new two-pants suit and the gold fillings in your teeth.

Millions of Americans postpone making out a will because the mere thought depresses them. Actually, it is rather an enlightening experience.

"I'll go along with you—just so you won't feel nervous," says your wife, when you tell her you are going to a lawyer to make out your will.

You have a deep inner conviction that this isn't her real reason at all. But what can you say? So along she comes.

"Have you decided just what you want to do?" asks the lawyer.

"Yep," you tell him. "The first thing I want to do is disinherit mankind. That's only what it deserves."

"Heh, heh, heh," laughs the lawyer coldly. "Now what about your material possessions? Do you own any stocks, bonds, country homes, yachts or old grain elevators?"

"None." Any other chattels?"

"Just her," you reply, pointing to your wife.

Well, it turns out after further questioning that about all you have to leave is a few sticks of furniture, your life insurance, and your clothing.

In a burst of husbandly generosity, you say: "Just make everything over to my wife. After all, she is a good woman, and she has given me the best years of her life—she says."

The secretary types out the will. For some reason, no matter how little you have to leave, the document always runs to three or four pages.

NBC Moves To Clean Up Kid TV Shows

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. has moved to eliminate extreme violence and leering sex from television shows watched by children.

James A. Stabile, NBC vice president in charge of standards and practices, Tuesday issued a directive to production organizations.

"To show an actor firing bullets into a victim already dead is entirely superfluous, not say morbid," it said.

"To extend a fist fight into a prolonged bashing and to show close-ups of facial injury goes well beyond the needs of establishing conflict, and borders on the sadistic."

"Such extremes of violence will not be used on NBC programs for children."

Stabile said it was all right to show "affection between man and woman — this is needed to teach another and, in so doing, to demonstrate love."

But, he said, "in meeting our responsibilities to the family audience we can do without the leer, the brutal set of the jaw, and the intent to possess as the symbol of power and determination."

Stabile said parents also have a responsibility in determining what their children watch on TV.

NBC will rebroadcast its project 20 "Meet Mr. Lincoln" based on contemporary still pictures, posters and drawings.

The next seven days hold a number of other items of special interest, too.

Tonight, for example, Art Carney stars in three one act plays — "Three in One" — on NBC (8:30). CBS' New York Philharmonic Young People's Concerts start their season Sunday at 1 p. m. and NBC's Sunday Showcase (8:30 p. m.) is Tony Webster's "After Hours," a light-hearted treatment of psychiatry.

"The Swingin' Years" — America's big band era — will be the Tuesday Startime show (NBC, 8:30-9:30 p. m.) followed by "To the Sound of Trumpets," an original with an impressive cast including Dame Judith Anderson, Boris Karloff and Stephen Boyd.

"The American Cowboy," a musical comedy treatment of a familiar type will be CBS' Wednesday night (10-11 p. m.) special, while on Thursday there will be an hour-long revue (CBS, 10-11) with Jackie Cooper and Renee Jeannaire.

116 Candidates After 28 Jobs

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The May 3 primary election is going to be an expensive one for Summit County — to cost at least $100,000, according to the board of elections.

The reason?

There were 116 candidates filing for 28 jobs Wednesday. One example tells the story of the crowded field: Seventeen Democrats and six Republicans are seeking to become county sheriff.

Mortgage Help Offered

All persons living in smaller American communities and members of minority groups everywhere are eligible for mortgage financing assistance under the Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program, James L. Lafler, newly appointed executive secretary for Region IV of the program, pointed out today in Chicago.

The Region IV office serves the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, and Wisconsin.

The VHMCP was established under the Housing Act of 1954 to act as a clearing house in channeling funds for FHA-insured and VA-guaranteed mortgage loans into small communities where mortgage money is scarce, and to help make such mortgage loans available to members of minority groups without regard to size of the community in which they live.

During its five years of operation, VHMCP has enabled over 40,000 families, unable to obtain FHA and VA mortgage financing from local sources, to obtain home loans amounting to about $400 million.

"With mortgage financing more difficult to obtain these days, the problem of continued healthy and stable home ownership growth in the smaller communities is becoming increasingly important," Lafler said.

The VHMCP offers free assistance to all eligible interested veterans and non-veteran home buyers, builders, and realtors through FHA financing of their Program's participating investors.

Interested applicants are invited to write to: Voluntary Home Mortgage Credit Program, Room 851, U. S. Court House, 219 South Clark Street, Chicago 4, Illinois.

Soviet Still Seeks To Tie Bill Paying with Trade Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union says that it is ready at any time to resume talks on settlement of its lend-lease debt "with simultaneous normalization of economic relations" with the United States.

This was a reiteration of the Soviet stand that broke down negotiations to clean up its World War II debt to this country.

Soviet-American lend-lease talks collapsed eight days ago when American officials refused to consider the Soviet demand that a big loan and a trade agreement be tied to a settlement.

In a statement, the Soviet Embassy said today that Premier Nikita Khrushchev had pointed out in his talks with President Eisenhower at Camp David, Md., last fall "at the substance of the question (of a lend-lease settlement) lies in the removal by the United States of the discriminatory restrictions on trade with the U.S.S.R. and in the permission to the American businessmen to trade unrestrictedly with the Soviet Union."

The embassy statement indirectly accused the United States of offering Britain and other allies better terms, including a loan, than have been offered the Soviet Union to settle lend-lease accounts.

During World War II, the United States sent about 11 billion dollars worth of goods to the Soviet Union.

It has sought repayment only for materials such as factory machinery—which had a useful civilian purpose in peacetime.

The United States demanded $60 million dollars after the war to close the lend-lease books.

The Soviets countered with an offer of $60 million.

In the talks that collapsed Jan. 27, the Soviets never repeated this offer. Soviet negotiators demanded that any settlement simultaneously cover: A long-term credit at acceptable interest rates and a trade agreement, giving Soviet products the benefit of the same lower tariff rates other countries enjoy on the American market. These tariffs were raised for Russia in 1951 after the Korean War.

Rail Union Keeps Kennedy As President

CLEVELAND (AP) — William Parks Kennedy, 67-year-old president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, has been reelected president at the union's convention, despite a challenge from an insurgent group.

Kennedy defeated William J. Weil, 51, the union's general secretary-treasurer by a vote of 641 to 464, as the climax to the month-long convention. A third candidate for president, L. B. Winfield, of Memphis, Tenn., received nine votes.

The balloting was secret, with delegates casting their votes by machine.

Kennedy, president since 1949, had been challenged by the younger elements within the 200,000-member union, largest of the railroad operating brotherhoods.

This is the first time since Kennedy assumed office that he has had real opposition in the race for the presidency. He is from Minneapolis.

Weil has been the union's No. 2 man since 1954. His backers criticized administration leaders as lacking militancy and aggressiveness. Weil drew his strength from insurgent forces and the "committee of one hundred," composed of younger delegates among the 1,100 in attendance here. They contended officers should be younger and more forceful in negotiations with the nation's railroads.

Miss Sylvia Smith Becomes Bride of Robert L. Haynes

MR. and MRS. ROBERT HAYNES

Arrangements of white carnations, mums and scarlet geraniums interspersed with evergreens, fern and white satin bows and flanked by two seven-branch candelabra decorated the altar of Trinity Lutheran Church when Miss Sylvia Sue Smith became the bride of Mr. Robert Lee Haynes.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Pastor Carl G. Zehner at 4 p.m. Sunday, January 10.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, 932 S. Washington St. Bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Damnn Haynes, Hillsboro.

A half-hour of nuptial music preceded the ceremony with Mrs. Karl Herrmann at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white delustered satin fashioned on classic princess lines with a portrait neckline.

The back featured a bustle effect of hand-made satin roses surrounded by illusion petals, embroidered with seed pearls. The bracelet length sleeves were tied with loops of pearls.

Her shoulder length veil of imported illusion was caught to a tiny satin cap which was trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent.

She carried a satin muff with a cascade arrangement of white camellias, mums and foliage tied with narrow satin streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Pamela Teal, Circleville, was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in an afternoon length gown of holiday red delustered satin and tulle, designed with a bouffant skirt and a scalloped neckline.

She wore a white fur head clip with a circular veil of scarlet tulle and carried a white muff to which her bouquet of white mums and scarlet geraniums was attached.

Thomas Haynes served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Donald Clever, James North and Thomas Smith.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue gown of crepe and chiffon with matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother wore gown of rose silk faille with matching accessories. Their corseage consisted of a white mum.

Guest Needed a Headache

DEAR ABBY: Before accepting an invitation, is it proper to ask, "What have you planned for entertainment?"

Last night my husband nearly blew his top. We were invited to some friends' home for dinner. They served cocktails at 7:00 p.m. and then proceeded to show us some colored "slides" of their trip to Estes Park.

At 11:00 p.m. there was no sign of dinner and they were still going strong with slides of their trip and all the strangers they met on the way. (One half-hour of some old foot from Tulsa smooching his young, new wife.) At midnight we had eaten every peanut and pretzel in sight. My husband was seething.

At 1:00 a.m. they served spaghetti and meatballs and we got home about 3:00 a.m. My husband isn't speaking to me. How can we avoid a situation like this in the future without offending our host?

DEAR MRS. R.: You can't. When one accepts an invitation, he must suffer through the evening like a good soldier, unless he can beg to be excused early with a

Scholastic Performance Is Essential In Ninth Grade, Not Social Prowess

This is the ninth in a series of 12 articles explaining the objectives and problems of the Pickaway County School System. Through this series an attempt is made to acquaint parents of school children on how they can assist the school system in obtaining the maximum from the educational facilities offered.

By Robert Seward
County General Supervisor

Your child is now entering the final stages of his or her public school education. His teen-age years in high school will be filled with both joy and disappointment.

Educationally speaking, your child can consider his studies as his main goal and his social life as a secondary role, or he can consider his social life his main goal and his studies as a secondary role.

This means his four years in high school can be spent, conscientiously studying, to prepare himself for a future vocation or they can be spent living for present enjoyment, with little effort being devoted to preparing himself for the future.

The importance of proper guidance, in helping our high school students develop their schedule, was discussed in a previous article. As a parent, you should be aware of the various requirements established by the state department of education that your child needs to meet in order to graduate from high school.

A STUDENT needs 16 units of credit in order to graduate from high school. One of these units may be made up of credits of less than one-half unit in value. This means that four years of health and physical education may be counted as one of the units.

But most of our boards of education, with the authority to do so, require 16 units, excluding any units made up of quarter units, in order to graduate. In general terms,

Lima Seeking Southbound Air Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lima, Ohio, appeals to the Civil Aeronautics Board today for a local air service route running southward to Dayton and Cincinnati, Ohio.

Frank M. Hackman, research director of the Lima Assn. of Commerce, said this is Lima's most pressing requirement in the CAB's Great Lakes local air service case.

Hackman's statement for the board urged that Lake Central Airlines service be extended southward to Dayton and Cincinnati despite a CAB hearing examiner's recommendation that the request be deferred.

Final arguments in the case affecting scores of communities in the Great Lakes area are scheduled to end today with appearances of some 20 spokesmen for Ohio and West Virginia communities.

The hearing examiner's recommendations on numerous new and expanded local air routes were made last September. The board will uphold, reject or amend the various recommendations later this year.

The need for direct air service between Columbus and Sandusky, Ohio, was cited here Thursday in CAB hearings.

George Smith, assistant city attorney for Columbus, also endorsed the hearing examiner's recommendations that Lake Central Airlines be given non-stop authority between Columbus and Cleveland and Columbus and Akron-Canton.

Ohio Dogs' Lives Getting Safer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leading a dog's life was safer last year in Ohio—at least regarding rabies.

The Ohio Health Department reports there were only 15 verified cases of rabid dogs during 1959, a drop of 56 from 1958's total of 71. The department said this is the lowest annual total on its records.

The department said there were 111 animal rabies cases during 1959, lowest total in 36 years, and no reported cases of rabies in humans.

Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, health director, said cooperation with local health departments to promote immunization of domestic animals helped.

a unit of credit is earned when a student successfully completes a year's study of a subject, such as biology.

These 16 units, required for graduation, cannot be just any 16 units. One of these 16 units must be American history and government. Three of the units must be English; two of social studies; one unit of science, and one unit of mathematics.

In addition, the 16 units must include two majors and two minors. A major can be defined as three units in a specific subject area. The student will automatically have a major in English and a minor in social studies.

This requires the student to earn another major and another minor. If he uses the social studies field as his second major then he is required to acquire two minor's in various fields. In addition, to the above requirements, a unit of health and physical education is required for graduation.

Care needs to be exercised so that a student will have the proper combination of units in order to graduate.

THE SUBJECTS offered in our high schools are often referred to as required subjects and elective subjects. Required subjects are required of all students because either the state board of education or your local school board feel that these areas of knowledge are important to all students as future citizens.

Elective subjects are provided for students to develop a background of knowledge in their own particular areas of interest.

The subjects required of our students in the ninth grade, by most of our schools, are English, general science, a unit of mathematics and health and physical education. Many of our schools provide students a choice, in the math requirement, between algebra I and general mathematics.

A few of our schools require music of all ninth grade students. The electives offered in our ninth grade program varies slightly from school to school.

Most of the schools offer the following electives: home economics, industrial arts, general business, a foreign language, usually Latin, and music. A few of the schools offer vocational agriculture.

Most students, in the ninth grade, are permitted to take only four units of credit. This means that the student will take three required subjects and will be given the choice of one elective.

THE STATE Department of Education will permit those students ranking, scholastically, in the upper 25 per cent of their class, to take five units of credit. These students have the opportunity to select two electives.

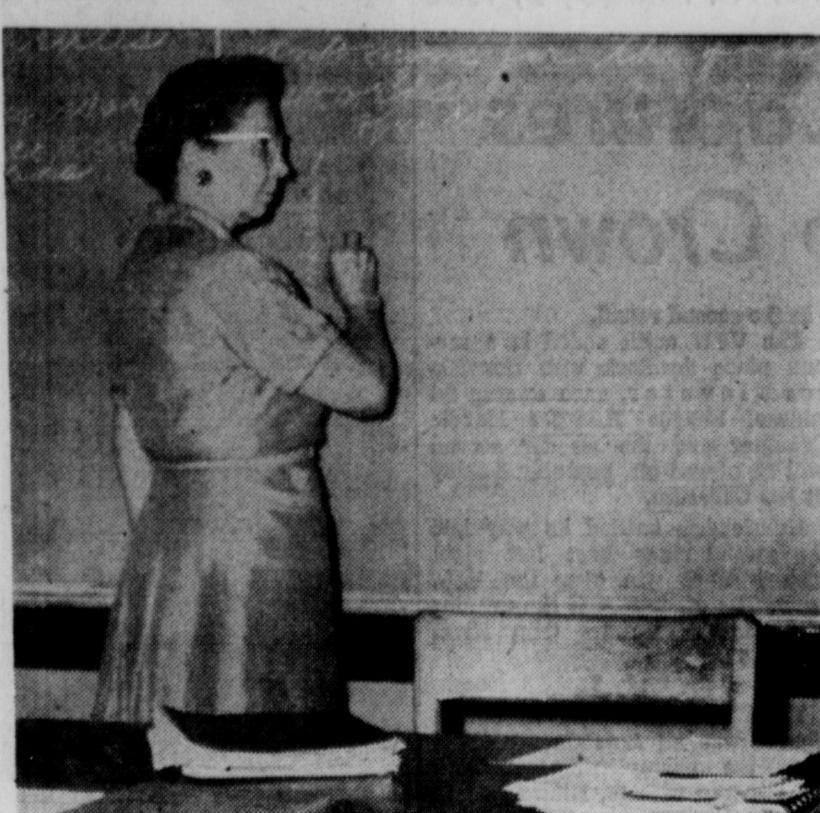

The question has often been asked, "How will the new district high schools improve our high school curriculum?" Most of our present ninth grade classes have an enrollment below 30. With this size of enrollment it is not financially feasible to have more than one section in each of the required subject areas.

The number of ninth grade sections in our new high schools will range from approximately three at Logan Elm to five at Teays Valley.

In our present high schools all students are required to take the same English course, the same science course, and in some instances, the same math course.

This means that all students are taught the same material regardless of their future interests. The new high schools will have sufficient sections to enable the curriculum to be set up in relationship to subject area is reported as unsatisfactory at the end of the first six weeks, call the local principal and arrange for a conference with the appropriate teacher.

THIS MEANS that a student interested in a vocational field or in a commercial field can take an English course designed for his needs—he can take vocational or business math.

Likewise, a student interested in college can take a section of English, and a section of science, both designed to fit his future needs.

The number of electives offered at the ninth grade level can be raised with an increase in the number of students. If a grade has less than 30 students, and the majority of the students are premitted to take only one elective, it can be seen that if too many electives are offered the class sizes will be costly to finance.

An increase in the number of students will permit the offering of more electives and still maintain a higher pupil-teacher ratio.

A larger number of class sections, in a specific area, will enable the high school principal to assign more teachers to teach in their major teaching areas. At the present time many of our teachers, through necessity, are teaching subjects in three different fields and a few in four different subject matter areas.

Parents can help their ninth grade child and the school by working with him, in the development of the child's subject schedule. Parents should be alert to see that their child is taking subjects that will benefit his future goals, has scheduled and is doing satisfactory work, in at least four subject units.

IF YOUR child's work in any unit of credit in his freshman year he will remain in the ninth grade.

If he passes in only three units he can become a sophomore but will be required to make up the failed fourth unit during the next three years.

Our ninth grade students are given much more freedom and self responsibility than they were previously accustomed to. It is the duty of the parent to cooperate with the school officials, in seeing that this freedom is not abused and that the child's responsibilities are carried out.

High school is not a social whirl for four years. Much hard work and study is required of every student if he is to get the most out of his high school career.

The schools, in the past few years, have conscientiously tried to reduce the number of mid-week school activities. Parents can cooperate in this endeavor by seeing that their child devotes ample time to proper home study.

Course in Politics Planned by Area Chamber of Commerce

An "Action Course in Practical Politics" will be held in Circleville in the near future for business, industrial and professional men and all others interested in better government.

The course, prepared by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, will be sponsored locally by the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

As explained to Chamber directors by Richard L. Baily, field representative of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, more than 42,000 citizens have participated or are currently enrolled in this study of practical politics.

Baily emphasized that the purpose of the course is to encourage businessmen to become active as individuals in the party of their own choice. It is bipartisan and promotes no ideologies.

The course is planned for small discussion groups. It consists of nine two-hour workshops to be held once a week.

Eight pamphlets cover such topics as: The Individual in Politics, Political Party Organization, The Political Precinct, The Political Campaign, Political Clubs, Political Leaders' Problems, Political Meetings, Businessmen in Politics, plus a final session in which discussions are held with local political leaders on actual political operations, tactics and problems.

Clinton Election Aide Quits, Runs for Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Howard D. Barns of Wilmington has resigned as a Democratic member of the Clinton County Election Board, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown reported Friday. Barns, appointed to serve until Feb. 28, 1962, resigned to become a candidate for probate judge.

The men—James E. Collins of Matamoras, Mexico, and Carmine Capo, 49, of Brownsville, Tex.—waived a hearing Wednesday when they were arraigned here before U.S. Commissioner Graham P. Hunt on a federal bank robbery charge. He ordered them held for grand jury action under bonds of $25,000 each.

The men got $5,608 in the holdup but the money was recovered.

The bandits were caught when their automobile broke down near Maineville and they tried to flee from pursuers through a field.

New Holland Lions Honor High School Cage Squad

The New Holland Lions Club honored its final high school basketball team last night at a banquet held in the New Holland Methodist Church.

The Rev. Father Richard Connolly, pastor of the Washington C. H. Catholic Church, gave the main address, emphasizing that winning isn't everything in sports.

He said it was the good loser who deserved the credit because it was tougher to lose than to win. The bulldogs present record is 1-16, defeating Pickaway earlier in the year.

The New Holland quintet is composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores. Team members are: juniors — Myron Haggard and Martin McDaniel;

SOPHOMORES — Gary Kirk, Steve Bush, Ronnie Glassco and Donnie Curry, and freshmen — Charles Hunter, Mike Eckle and Delbert Bochard.

These nine boys played both reserve and varsity ball, due to the lack of personnel. Team manager is Bruce Kirk.

Cheerleaders are Karen Creamer, Patti Hidy, Karen Vincent, Kay Bush and Linda Marvin. Head coach is Orville Conley, a graduate of Morehead State College, Morehead, Ky.

Marking the play of the New Holland squad this year was the spirit and determination displayed by the youths, although they were many points in arrears.

Many fans will remember the Williamsport battle when New Holland was trailing by as much as 50 points and played like they were behind by just two points.

Next year the school joins the Miami Trace School District, Fayette County. New Holland Superintendent Robert Melick said he expected the new high school to number near 1,000 students.

THE EDUCATIONAL institution will initiate reserve football and varsity basketball, track and baseball.

The MT District is in the process of joining the South Central Ohio in the second round.

The VFW outfit ended in a second place deadlock with Hunsicker's Elevator, each owning 6-4 marks. League Manager Marvin Spangler said the tie for second will be played off, probably Sunday at the Coliseum.

Hunsicker's battled its way into the second place knot last night with a 79-68 win over the VFW crew. The other test of the evening saw Barr's All-Stars trim River Oil, 81-50.

Bob Friese, popular golfer here a few years back, recently recaptured the men's golf championship at the Wickenburg Country Club b at Tucson, Ariz.

Friese won the Pickaway County Club men's championship in the early 1950's. He left here for Arizona in 1954.

Friese took the hard-fought contest one up in 36 holes. They finished the first 18 holes all even with 73 strokes or one over par.

At the end of 27 holes, Wilson was one up. Friese went one up on the 35th on a par four to Wilson's bogie five. Both shot par on the 36th, but Friese had the championship.

2 Ring Kings Retain Crowns

31,830 See Twin Bill In Los Angeles Arena

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sun rose today on this happy aftermath of Memorial Coliseum's championship boxing doubleheader.

Champions Jose Becerra, the bombing bantamweight, and Carlos Ortiz, kingpin of the junior welterweights, still had their titles.

Promoters who lured 31,830 fans for the first fight card in the huge outdoor stadium were busy dividing the $363,890—a record California gate.

Even the losers—bantamweight Alphonse Halimi of France and Mexico's Raymundo Torres—managed smiles. They picked up a pocketful of change and ringing bravos for a gallant, if unsuccessful, try for their divisions' highest honors.

Becerra could easily be elected president of his Mexican homeland after his stunning, one-punch knockout of Halimi in their sizing rematch.

And Ortiz, sharpshooting New Yorker, added another strong argument to his case for a crack at lightweight champion Joe Brown's title with his 10th round knockout of 18-year-old Torres.

Halimi, 117, boxing deftly, kept the hard-hitting Mexican champion from Guadaljara at bay for eight rounds. He was leading on all cards when he ran into a corking left hook early in the ninth.

"I hit him right on the point of the chin," said the 118-pound Becerra in a dressing room crowded with jubilant Mexicans.

Ortiz, 137, wore down the strong but inexperienced Torres with savage counterpunches. The coup de grace was a barrage of lefts and rights followed by a jolting right to the jaw.

Teen-age Torres, 138, admitted later that he just couldn't take any more.

In his dressing room, the 23-year-old Ortiz said "now I want a shot at Brown. I've beaten the best lightweights around. I deserve a title shot."

The championship doubleheader was the first bona-fide fight card in the 100,000-seat Coliseum.

Villanova Pilot Chalks Up His 400th Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Al Severance is now in a class with Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Bill Terry, Ted Williams and only a few others.

He's hit 400.

After almost 24 seasons as coach of the Villanova basketball team, Severance collected his 400th victory Thursday night when the eighth-ranked Wildcats defeated Manhattan 62-55.

The triumph, which boosted Villanova's record to 15-1, came only a few hours after it had been selected to play in next month's National Invitation Tournament. Dayton and Detroit also accepted bids to the 12-team tourney which gets under way March 10.

The Villanova-Manhattan game was the opener of a doubleheader in Madison Square Garden. St. John's of New York trounced Syracuse 85-68 in the windup. Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves from Peoria, Ill., whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Elsewhere, Drake bested Tulsa 62-51 in the Missouri Valley Conference. Houston rode over Sam Houston State 92-55 and Colgate nipped Rochester 65-63.

Seeing Olympics in Rome To Cost about $20 a Day

ROME (AP)—Coming to Rome for the Olympics Aug. 25-Sept. 17? Then plan on spending a minimum of $15 a day for room, meals and a fair seat.

Also figure on an additional $5 a day for extras—an occasional splurge in a better-than-average restaurant, a sightseeing tour or two, a night on the town, a daily pass in a sidewalk cafe.

Count on paying about $600 for transportation to and from New York, whether you come by air economy class or by ship tourist class.

You might get away for $10 a day or so over-all while in Rome, but you'll have to stay in cheap lodgings, like youth hotels, and be satisfied with poor Olympics seats.

However, on a 10-day stay, for example, it would be better to spend $750 or $800 and feel you had your money's worth than to spend $700 and go home disappointed.

NEW SCORING MARK—Oscar Robertson, the nation's leading college scorer from the University of Cincinnati, now owns the major college career scoring record, cracking Frank Selvy's mark of 2,538 points.

Unknown Pro Sets Pace at Palm Springs

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A comparatively unknown pro was pacing the name players today as the world's richest golf tournament went into its third round.

One stroke in front approaching the halfway point in the 90-hole event was Wes Ellis Jr., steady-nerved Texan who Thursday put together the tournament's lowest round yet—65—over the Tamarisk course, toughest of four layouts in the $100,000 Palm Springs classic. His 65, paired with a first-round 70, gave him 135—just one stroke in front of Bill Johnston, a Provo, Utah, public links pro, and 24-year-old John McMullin of Fair Oaks, Calif.

Johnston shot a 67 at Thunderbird to go with his previous 69 while McMullin scored 68 two days in a row.

As the pressure grew, some of the top money winners were close enough to move in for the kill. Burke, Jr., and Johnny Palmer were only two strokes off at 137, as was Bob Goalby.

Dutch Harrison was three strokes behind at 138. Also at 138 was Tony Lema, who shared the first-round lead with Johnny and Arnold Palmer, Goalby and Mason Rudolph.

Although there is keen interest in the front runners, the real crowd and pro-amazing gimmick is the $50,000 prize for a hole-in-one.

Souchak almost got it on Thunderbird's 148-yard eighth when his tee shot dropped in and then bounced out of the cup, winding up six inches away.

Had the flag been leaning in the other direction, the ball probably would have stayed in the hole.

Bob Allison, 25 of Raytown, Kan., led the American League in triples last season with nine. The rookie hit 30 homers for Washington.

Although I'm sure we'll miss Temple, I feel we are pretty well protected in the infield with fellows like Roy McMillan, Billy Martin, Eddie Kasko and Willie Jones. We have a fine crop of infield rookies in shortstop Chico Cardenas, second baseman Elio Chacon, third baseman Cliff

Redlegs Increase Pitching Power

By FRED HUTCHINSON
Manager, Cincinnati Reds

BRADENTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — If anyone needs proof of the importance of good pitching, just let him review the record of the Cincinnati Reds last year. We led the league in batting, slugging, hits, runs scored, runs batted in and total bases. We had adequate defense and better than average speed. Yet we couldn't do better than finish in a tie for fifth.

Why? We were seventh in pitching effectiveness with an earned run average, giving up nearly 4½ runs a game. We lost 27 games by blowing leads in the last three innings. Obviously, that meant we had a decided weakness in the pitching department, especially in the bullpen.

It is not difficult to understand, then, why we parted with such fine players as Johnny Temple and Frank Thomas in order to do something about our pitching.

The addition of Cal McLish and Bill Henry should give us a pretty good staff although we still could use more help on the mound. The holdovers are Don Newcombe, Bob Purkey, Joe Nuxhall, Jim Brosnan and Brooks Lawrence.

We also have youngsters like Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook, Orlando Pena, all rookies last year. Coming up are Mike Cuellar, Claude Osteen, Ed Palmquist, Dave Stenhouse and Ted Wiedan.

Although I'm sure we'll miss Temple, I feel we are pretty well protected in the infield with fellows like Roy McMillan, Billy Martin, Eddie Kasko and Willie Jones. We have a fine crop of infield rookies in shortstop Chico Cardenas, second baseman Elio Chacon, third baseman Cliff

Cook and first baseman Gordon Coleman.

If Coleman can make it, Frank Robinson will return to the outfield. An outfield of Vada Pinson, Gus Bell and Robinson doesn't shape up bad at all. As reserve outfielders we have Jerry Lynch, Pete Whisenant and Lee Walls.

We're pretty well set in catching with Ed Bailey, Frank House and Dutch Dotterer.

Summing it up, I feel we're still not entirely sound to be an outstanding contender but we should be stronger and our pennant chances are very good if we can coordinate our hitting, fielding and pitching.

(Next: Casey Stengel, New York Yankees.)

31,830 See Twin Bill In Los Angeles Arena

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The sun rose today on this happy aftermath of Memorial Coliseum's championship boxing doubleheader.

Champions Jose Becerra, the bombing bantamweight, and Carlos Ortiz, kingpin of the junior welterweights, still had their titles.

Promoters who lured 31,830 fans for the first fight card in the huge outdoor stadium were busy dividing the $363,800—a record California gate.

Even the losers—bantamweight Alphonse Halimi of France and Mexico's Raymundo Torres—managed smiles. They picked up a pocketful of change and ringing bravos for a gallant, if unsuccessful, try for their divisions' highest honors.

Becerra could easily be elected president of his Mexican homeland after his stunning, one-punch knockout of Halimi in their sizzling rematch.

And Ortiz, sharpshooting New Yorker, added another strong argument to his case for a crack at lightweight champion Joe Brown's title with his 10th round knockout of 18-year-old Torres.

Halimi, 117, boxing deftly, kept the hard-soaking Mexican champion from Guadalajara at bay for eight rounds. He was leading on all cards when he ran into a corking left hook early in the ninth. "I hit him right on the point of the chin," said the 118-pound Becerra in a dressing room crowded with jubilant Mexicans.

Ortiz, 132, wore down the strong but inexperienced Torres with savage counterpunches. The coup de grace was a barrage of lefts and rights followed by a jolting right to the jaw.

Teen-age Torres, 138, admitted later that he just couldn't take any more.

In his dressing room, the 23-year-old Ortiz said "now I want a shot at Brown. I've beaten the best lightweights around. I deserve a title shot."

The championship doubleheader was the first bona-fide fight card in the 100,000-seat Coliseum.

Villanova Pilot Chalks Up His 400th Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Al Severance is now in a class with Ty Cobb, Rogers Hornsby, Bill Terry, Ted Williams and only a few others.

He's hit 400.

After almost 24 seasons as coach of the Villanova basketball team, Severance collected his 400th victory Thursday night when the eighth-ranked Wildcats defeated Manhattan 62-55.

The triumph, which boosted Villanova's record to 15-1, came only a few hours after it had been selected to play in next month's National Invitation Tournament. Dayton and Detroit also accepted bids to the 12-team tourney which gets under way March 10.

The Villanova-Manhattan game was the opener of a doubleheader in Madison Square Garden. St. John's of New York trounced Syracuse 85-68 in the windup. Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Bradley and St. Louis were the only other teams among the top 20 to see action. The second-rated Braves from Peoria, Ill., whipped Gonzaga 80-69 and St. Louis, No. 18, beat Wichita 75-67.

Elsewhere, Drake bested Tulsa 62-51 in the Missouri Valley Conference. Houston rode over Sam Houston State 92-55 and Colgate nipped Rochester 65-63.

Coming to Rome for the Olympics Aug. 25-Sept. 11?

Then plan on spending a minimum of $15 a day for room, meals and a fair seat.

Also figure on an additional $5 a day for extras—an occasional splurge in a better-than-average restaurant, a sightseeing tour or two, a night on the town, a daily pass in a sidewalk cafe.

Count on paying about $600 for transportation to and from New York, whether you come by air economy class or by ship tourist class.

You might get away for $10 a day or so over-all while in Rome, but you'll have to stay in cheap lodgings, like youth hotels, and be satisfied with poor Olympics seats.

However, on a 10-day stay, for example, it would be better to spend $750 or $800 and feel you had your money's worth than to spend $700 and go home disappointed.

Don't expect to find Rome inexpensive. Olympic time is tourist time, and the Italian capital normally is crowded at that time of year.

City officials expect 150,000 visitors. Hotels and boarding houses may only 30,000 beds.

Most hotels already are booked by travel agencies around the world. Consequently, Olympic fans may find they have to book through an agent, possibly paying a fee.

Rooms in private homes will be available. These may cost up to $4 or $5 a day. A room without bath in a comfortable but low category hotel will cost about $6 a night, breakfast included.

You'll probably breakfast in your hotel. Your other meals will cost $2 or $3 each. Some good restaurants are cheaper, but these are usually the hard-to-find, out-of-the-way places. You can splurge at a top restaurant, spending about $6.

Tickets for the Olympic events have a wide price range. Some unreserved seats cost less than $1 an event but are not good.

Fairly decent seats, which now can be reserved through travel agents abroad, average about $3 an event. Really good seats may run as high as $20.

Other non-league contests find Darby (9-5) at West Jefferson; Monroe (3-13) traveling to Madison Mills; Canal Winchester invading Scioto (5-8), and Walnut (9-5) being entertained by Hamilton Twp.

Ashville (13-2) gets back on the Darby Valley League trail with a final tilt at Mt. Sterling. A victory will clinch second place in the DV League for Ashville, which trails undefeated Greenview. The Jamestown squad suffered its initial non-league loss last Saturday to potent Xenia.

THE TROJANS hope to duplicate last year's 77-45 W.J. victory. The Indians of Monroe take on trouble in the form of Madison Mills, a Fayette County powerhouse.

Scioto faces the biggest obstacle of the evening when it battles Canan Winchester, one of the strongest teams in Franklin County and Central Ohio.

Municipal Court Collections Are $376,378 in Six Years

Circleville Municipal Court, completing its sixth year of operations Jan. 1, 1960, has collected gross receipts totalling $376,378.

The Municipal Court originated Jan. 1, 1954, and has fulfilled a busy schedule during that time. Judge Sterling M. Lamb has been at the helm since the opening date.

The City of Circleville has received $222,128.40 of the total receipts. Total court expenses for the six-year period amounted to $89,406.61, leaving the city a net of $122,721.79 or an average net of $20,433.63 per year.

A report on the first full term of six years recently was completed by Judge Lamb and his staff and submitted to City Council. All phases of activity for the period were listed.

PICKAWAY County's share of the receipts for six years amounted to $78,965.25. Another $50,498.79 was disbursed to the State treasurer. The Pickaway County Law Library Assn. received $18,000 and $4,525 was earmarked to the Ohio Division of Conservation.

All money received in Municipal Court is disbursed to appropriate agencies as required by state law. Court expenses are handled through vouchers to the City Auditor.

The bulk of the court's six-year collection came from fines and bond forfeitures which totaled $267,526.77. Costs collected from criminal cases reached $87,032.21. Other receipts were $15,041 from city traffic tickets, $6,571.04 in costs from civil cases and $207 for performing marriages.

Other statistics on the report listed 13,969 criminal cases filed, with disposition reached on 13,814. Civil cases filed numbered 704 and disposition was made on 631.

Criminal cases in which all or part of fines and costs were suspended totaled 1,029. These suspended fines and costs amounted to $24,667.80.

Not all of Judge Lamb's efforts were bound to enforcing the law. He had the pleasant task of performing 69 marriages.

ACCORDING to the report, court was in session 1,807 days. State law required only 1,440 days, giving the local judiciary 367 days of operation beyond legal requirement.

One of the largest expenses of the court was for boarding prisoners in the Pickaway County Jail after conviction for violation of city ordinances. Money disbursed for this purpose amounted to $25,167.20.

The balance of expenses included such items as dockets, journals, office equipment, legal forms, stationery, postage stamps, phone service, blood alcohol tests, breathalyzer supplies, witness fees, mileage to the bailiff for use of his private automobile in serving court papers, legal books and supplements, repairs to office equipment and miscellaneous office supplies.

Total salary paid to the judge for the six-year term amounted to $31,822.17. Other salaries paid were: acting judges, $2,860.16; assigned judges, $405; clerks, $16,198.24; deputy clerks, $17,589.67; bailiff, $10,829.96.

The city's share of total salaries paid amounted to $58,152.96. The county's share was $26,724.23.

Judge Lamb explained that under the Ohio Revised Code, the city pays three-fifths of the salary of the judge, acting judges, clerk and bailiff. The county pays two-fifths. Salaries of deputy clerks are paid wholly by the city.

A TYPICAL period of operation for Municipal Court was during 1959 when total gross receipts collected amounted to $67,831.11. Disbursements to the City of Circleville for the year totaled $35,557.63. Total expenses amounted to $19,584.93, leaving the city a net of $15,972.70.

Although the court adds substantial sums to the city coffers, Judge Lamb pointed out that the primary aim of his bench is to provide adequate law enforcement and better justice. Recent state legislation which gave municipal courts countywide jurisdiction backs up this objective.

The judge explained that all defendants must be proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt of the offense charged before convictions are made. If reasonable doubt does exist, the cases normally are dismissed.

Judge Lamb conducts his court with a staff of three persons a clerk, a deputy clerk and a bailiff.

Mrs. Naomi Houghton serves as clerk. She is a veteran of about four years with the court. Jo Ann Blanton is deputy clerk and has been on the staff more than a year.

BAILIFF deputies are handled by John Kerns who succeeded Harry Coss last year. Coss resigned due to health reasons.

The local court usually is a scene of busy activity, especially on Mondays following a heavy weekend of traffic arrests.

The court handles cases booked by the State Highway Patrol operating in this area, the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, city police and area game protectors for the majority of its business. Many civil cases also are filed in search for the fugitives.

Humble identified the escapees as Gus Moamis, 19, of Warren; James Stryker, 20, of Warren; Raymond Bishop, 27, of McDonald all charged with armed robbery, and Jack Grafton, 28, of Warren, held as a probable violator.

The turnkey said the inside door to the cell block was left unlocked when deputies brought in two prisoners about an hour before the break. This allowed the four escapees to gather in a small vestibule between the two doors, where they were waiting for him when he went to get the garbage cans, he said.

4 Men Flee County Jail In Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Four men broke out of the Trumbull County Jail here early today.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Humble, the turnkey on duty, said the escapees rushed past him and dashed out a side entrance to the jail when he opened the outside door to a first-floor cell block to remove some garbage cans about 5:30 a.m.

Sheriff's officers, city police and the Ohio Highway Patrol combed the city and adjoining area in a search for the fugitives.

Humble identified the escapees as Gus Moamis, 19, of Warren; James Stryker, 20, of Warren; Raymond Bishop, 27, of McDonald all charged with armed robbery, and Jack Grafton, 28, of Warren, held as a probable violator.

The turnkey said the inside door to the cell block was left unlocked when deputies brought in two prisoners about an hour before the break. Oldsters Due For Health Insurance Deal

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Persons 65 years old and over not previously covered by a medical-surgical insurance plan will soon have an opportunity to participate in a new program.

Dr. Frank Mayfield, president of the Ohio State Medical Assn., and Dr. H. M. Clodfelter, president of the Ohio Medical Indemnity, announced today that the new plan will be placed in operation soon.

The program originated from a resolution adopted by the House of Delegates of the medical association at its April 1959 meeting. That resolution stated a need for a medical-surgical contract for those 65 and over who did not have the opportunity for coverage through group enrollment while employed, or who did not continue their OMI contract on an individual basis after retirement.

Coverage will be similar to the company's preferred contract and the premium will be $1.45 per month per person. A statewide enrollment period will be announced soon, the association said.

And the medical association said it will ask all of its 9,500 members throughout the state, when giving care to subscribers to the new Ohio Medical Indemnity contract for 65-year-olds or older, "to keep their fees in line with the indemnities provided in the policy, when the financial circumstances of the subscriber indicate."

criminal cases reached $87,032.21. Other receipts were $15,041 from city traffic tickets, $6,571.04 in costs from civil cases and $207 for performing marriages.
